

Advanced Language, Materials and Methodology

Course Overview

As English teachers, one of our biggest challenges is to continually develop our English proficiency and at the same time improve our awareness of current methodology and materials

This 50-hour course reviews the principles and practices of English language teaching and looks at recent developments in teaching methodology. You will examine the relationship between language, materials and methodology and will be encouraged to re-examine your own teaching.

Who is the course suitable for?

- Teachers who wish to improve their understanding and command of contemporary written and spoken English
- Teachers who wish to raise their awareness of how language, materials and methodology interact in the teaching of English to secondary school students and/or adults*
- Participants with a minimum language level corresponding to B2/C1 on the Common European Framework

*Those teachers working in primary education may like to refer to the course description for our TYL course.

What will the course include?

As a course participant, you will receive a pre-course questionnaire, which should be returned prior to the course. This is to ensure that the areas of most relevance to you are integrated into the course content.

The course will include content drawn from some or all of the following areas, depending on your contextual and personal needs and priorities:

- Language change
- Language and culture
- Motivating learners
- Creativity in the classroom

- Activities to develop language knowledge and use
- Recent developments in methodology

Time will be built into the course for reflection and for you to consider how to adapt ideas from the course to the classroom in your own professional context.

All NILE's courses involve a significant element of English language improvement and/or development of language awareness.
